

DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION: REFLECTIONS AND SOLUTIONS FOR A CHANGING WORLD

CODEWAY EXPO 2025, Fiera Roma

14 may from 11:45 to 13:00 | Project Hub Room (Hall 1)

The event will focus on how development cooperation should evolve in the face of the current epochal changes. The crisis of democratic systems, the disintegration of multilateralism and the increasing affirmation of relations of power between states raise new global challenges. In this context, it is essential to reconsider the role of international cooperation and how it must adapt to cope with new geopolitical, social and economic dynamics. A dialogue will open between institutional actors, experts and civil society to compare visions and define how cooperation can evolve in a rapidly changing world, promoting innovative solutions for a shared future, able to overcome divisions and reaffirm the principles of global solidarity.

Agenda:

11:45 - 12:45 Facilitator: Roberto Ridolfi, LINK 2007 - in multi-bilateral conversation with:

Sandro De Luca, President LINK 2007

Francesco Corvaro, Special Envoy for Climate Change of the Italian Government

Carlo Batori, Deputy Director General/Principal Director for bilateral development cooperation policies and emergency interventions, DGCS

Pasquale Cerbone, International Affairs, CONFINDUSTRIA

Barbara Mineo, Head of Local Development Programs and Business Integration, ENI

12:45 – 13:00 Planned interventions: Elias Gerovasi, INFO COOPERAZIONE

Conclusion: Roberto Ridolfi, LINK 2007